

Read, Buy and Save

You no doubt have lately read the reports of the big advance on shoes and we must admit that they have advanced these last few weeks.

We have kept in close touch with the leather markets and it did not come to us as a surprise.

We got busy three months ago and bought up a good supply of which a large shipment reached us a few weeks ago before the advance and we can supply you with footwear at less than we can buy them for today. The last report is that prices are still advancing. Now if you want to save money on your needs in footwear, we would advise you to buy early before our stock is all gone.

Southern Alberta Stockmen Should Not Sacrifice Their Stock.

The Department of Agriculture has appointed John Glendenning to receive cattle of consignors in Southern Alberta and dispose of them at the Calgary Stock Yards and make returns to consignors as is done by regular commission merchants. This is to check the sale of stock to speculative buyers who are combing the country in which the people are suffering most from drought. Owners of cattle are warned by the department that there is no need of sacrificing cattle stock at the prices which some of it is being sold for at present. The open stock yards at Calgary and Edmonton are absorbing all stock at a fair price at present. Farmers in Central and Northern Alberta are sending in orders for stock and the consigning of stock to central markets is the right method of selling. It involves the least expense to the consignor and likewise the least expense to the purchaser. The farmers of Central and Northern Alberta can nearly all stand increases to their cattle stock. In addition to this demand there will be no less than four thousand head of cattle purchased under the Live Stock Encouragement Act during the next two months.

It is desirable that these not be offered all at once but should be moved into the market gradually. The kind of stock most desired is yearling and two year old heifers, with a limited number of dairy cows. Shippers who wish their stock to be handled by the department should consign direct to Mr. John Glendenning at Calgary. It may be consigned likewise to any of the regular commission firms at Calgary and Edmonton.

The Live Stock Commissioner at Edmonton should be notified of the making of shipments in order to have forward purchasers who are getting cattle under the provisions of the Live Stock Encouragement Act.

Help for the Farmers

Reports regarding crop conditions in Alberta are far from favorable and there appears to be considerable apprehension on the part of farmers as to the attitude which the banks will take. The Royal Bank of Canada, however, has announced that the present crisis requires generous treatment for their farmer customers, and as far as they can consistently do so, no effort will be spared to lend them assistance. This item of news will, possibly have some cheering effect on the farmers of this neighborhood, more especially the statement that where possible, extensions of time, presumably until next crop, may be granted, and that every consideration is to be shown to all.

Before he was 14 was a cook's boy in a Canadian lumber camp. At 21 he was a lumber foreman and saved money on wages of $10 a month. From his first investment in a boat in which to transport lumber cheaply his shipping venture grew to a fleet. Today — a lumberman, shipowner and merchant because early he began to save his money. Once get the saving habit and unless you are an exception to the rule you will find that saving money is as easy as spending money. We welcome the opportunity of serving you.

Opera House Notes

The lovers of movie pictures, especially those who had read Zane Grey's story "The Riders of the Purple Sage," must have felt a thrill of pleasure in seeing the sequel to the story as shown in "The Rainbow Trail." The escape of Lassiter from the cave was exciting and realistic. Of course, the fights and struggles for supremacy between the friends of the Gentiles and the mormon hordes drew forth great applause from the audience but it is hoped that the lesson of the picture—the very extreme methods adopted by fanatical founders and leaders of new religions—has not been altogether forgotten.

In speaking of "Huck and Tom" the latest Paramount picture in which Jack Pickford is appearing at the opera house this week, Mrs. Pickford, who always keeps in close touch with the work of her famous children, said:

"The role of Tom Sawyer is one that I believe fits Jack as no other could, for his turn before the camera, Jack has had a habit of reading 'Tom Sawyer.' The episode of the cat and the painkiller he has already worked out once at our home in Toronto, when he administered Sloane's liniment to Mary's pet cat."

Good Roads A Necessity

Canada, and especially that greater and new Canada comprised within the three Prairie Provinces of the West, have numerous problems to work out in order to promote the development of our great natural resources, encourage immigration and permanent settlement on the land, ensure the prosperity and comfort of the people, and attract visitors from all parts of the world. To solve these many problems will require patience, courage and capacity on the part of Governments, municipalities and people, as well as large annual expenditures of money.

It is important, therefore, that all works inaugurated should, as far as possible, be of a permanent character, well planned, scientifically constructed, and their upkeep and efficiency maintained. In this article it is not the intention to deal with more than one of these many and diversified problems. Some people may think the creation of good roads is not the most pressing of Western problems, but few, if any, will deny its importance.

During the past half century Canada has been busy building railways—an enormous and burdensome task in view of the magnificent stretches of territory that had to be covered, with great barren spots like the north shore of Lake Superior and the mountains of British Columbia to be bridged, with many and great rivers to be spanned, and with but a small population to bear the expense and provide traffic for the completed lines. It is not to the discredit of Canada, therefore, that in this Dominion less attention and money has been devoted to good road building than is true of other countries.

With the advent of the automobile, and its general adoption for both passenger and freight carrying purposes within the past two decades, a revolution has been worked in the primary means of transport, and what was regarded as a good road a few years ago will not, under modern conditions of automobile traffic, stand the strain. The time has come, therefore, when the people of Western Canada must face the necessity and the expenditure involved in abandoning the old dirt roads and creating permanent highways. To continue spending large sums of money annually on dirt roads is now a wasteful procedure, because the cost of upkeep in a few years equals, if it does not exceed, the original cost, and if the roads are not maintained the whole expenditure is waste.

The magnitude of the task may be judged from a few Saskatchewan figures. There are over 200,000 miles of road in that Province. A Government survey of the Province has established the fact that there is little stone available for crushing to be used as macadam; suitable sand and gravel deposits are few and far removed in most cases from where it would be required in road construction. On the other hand, Saskatchewan has now over 52,000 licensed automobiles, and the number is increasing every week, fully two-thirds of which are owned by farmers. The Provincial revenue from license fees totals from $750,000 to one million dollars a year. The situation in Saskatchewan is proportionately true of the other Western Provinces.

The automobile is no longer a luxury but a necessity, but its value to the farming community of the West depends largely on good roads. The old-style dirt road will not suffice. After a rain they are useless and the automobile is tied up. In winter they frequently become impassable. Permanent roads would be available rain or shine, while in winter, with our comparatively light fall of fine, dry snow, the roads generally would be swept clean by the winds.

Then there is the saving of time, gasoline consumption, wear and tear which comes with good roads. The problem of getting to market for supplies and repairs, and from the farm to market with produce, is essentially a farmer's problem. In many cases his success in solving it determines the amount of his year's profits. A large motor truck manufacturing concern in the United States recently made a series of tests to determine just how much gasoline and time was wasted during a trip over unimproved highways. A two-ton truck started under capacity load. It travelled ten miles—about the distance "to town,"—and back again. It was over an average country road with dirt, sand and gravel predominating. During this ten-mile trip, two gallons and one-half pint of gasoline were consumed. But in covering the same distance over hard-surfaced roads, the motor required only one gallon and one quart, a saving of almost a gallon. It also took the truck forty-two minutes longer to make the trip over the unimproved road.

Multiply this saving by the number of trips made during a season, and it is easy to see how good roads regulate the farmer's bank balance. It ought to be sufficient to convert every Western Canadian into an enthusiastic good roads booster.

Diplomacy

This story is credited to John Burroughs: "The Germans are the trickiest people in the world. A German at a dinner party took in a lady whose name he didn't catch. During the fish course he saw a man who had showed him up the week before in a crooked business deal, and he muttered to the lady, ferociously: 'Do you see that man to the left of the epervier? Well, if there's one man on earth I hate, it's him!'"

"Why," said the lady, he's my husband."

"Yes, of course," said the German, "that's why I hate him!"

The Iron Road In The Wilderness

Another Example of Eastern Conservatism as Invaded by Occidental Ideas.

In laying the last tie in its railway link connecting Jerusalem and Suez, the British Government admittedly has, of course, not exhausted the possibilities of obtaining speedy passage over this historic wilderness. When an aeroplane undertakes to soar from Mecca to the isthmus, as will inevitably soon be the case, the reckoning in days may well be reduced to a matter of hours; yet even the time now required—approximately five days—is shorter than was ever hoped for in the days when caravans alone plied the desert fastnesses of Sinai. There is another example of eastern conservatism as invaded by occidental ideas—a land of natural barriers, difficult to surmount in the twentieth century as in the time of Moses, has awaited the latter-day Aryan and his tamed steed, Steam, before yielding to the demands of progress.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER - DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women Work On Nets

Receive 50 Cents for Each Box Spread on Reel.

Portland, Maine. — It would appear that every line of labor is open to women. They are now seen on the wharves in this city as gill net spoolers. Each day, after a trip to the fishing grounds, the gill-nets have to be dried, and these reels are so arranged that the nets lie across them and are wound up similar to a piece of thread on a spool. In fact, they are gigantic spools. One reel will hold a great many nets and are ready for use again in 24 hours. Women are now doing this sort of work. Many of them are wives of local fishermen. They receive 50 cents for each box of gill-nets which they spread on the reel. The women average from $4 to $4.50 a day.

Rights Of Provinces

Three Important Test Cases Are Before Privy Council.

London. — Three petitions for leave to appeal involving important questions whether the company's acts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario are intra vires of the provinces were before the privy council. Before council opened their addresses, Lord Haldane intimated on behalf of the privy council that their lordships were ready to grant relief and expressed the desire that all three appeals be consolidated and only one set of arguments be heard. Counsel promised to arrange this.

Farm Loans in Saskatchewan
Farmers in Saskatchewan located in all parts of the province have been loaned $2,500,000 by the Saskatchewan Farm Loans Board since it started operations in the summer of 1917. In these loans more than 1,500 farmers, many living in newly settled districts where the mortgage companies are sometimes reluctant to make loans, have participated. The money derived from the loans is being used for breaking land, erecting buildings, and securing livestock.

Work On Stockyards

Alberta Company to Spend $300,000 on Yards at Calgary.

J. M. Cameron, president of the Alberta Stockyards company, has announced that the company has started improvements in the yards, and on the erection of a modern office building, and will spend this year between $250,000 and $300,000.

The yards will be extended and new pens erected, and all the work done will be strictly modern and up-to-date. The yards will be paved and sewerage put in, and the older portion of the yards will be modernized as far as possible.

A Million Dollar Farming Concern

The Noble Foundation, the name under which the concern of which C. S. Noble, the celebrated Alberta wheat grower, is the head, is now a million dollar corporation, its capital having been increased from $750,000 to this figure. This company is farming between twenty and thirty thousand acres in Southern Alberta, growing all kinds of grain, and this year has about twelve thousand acres in crop.

 the Province of Alberta

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Board of Trustees of the Didsbury
 S. D. No. 652 of the Province of Alberta, that the sum of Fifteen Thousand Dollars should be borrowed on the security of the said District by the issue of Debentures repayable to the bearer in Thirty equal consecutive annual instalments with interest at the rate of not more than eight per centum per annum for the following purposes, namely:

Building a four-roomed Brick Veneered
 High School and the equipments therefor such as seats, blackboards, etc.

THEREFORE notice is hereby given by the Board of the said District that unless a poll of the ratepayers of the said District for and against the said debenture loan is demanded as provided by The School Ordinance, the said Board will apply to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for authority to borrow the said sum by debentures.

Of which all persons interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

J. V. BERSCHT,
 Chairman

Dated at Didsbury, Alta., this 21st day of July, 1919.

Instructions to Ratepayers

In rural districts a poll on a debenture loan may be demanded by any four ratepayers if the loan exceeds $1,200.00 or if the loan is not for the purpose of building a first school house.

In town and village districts a poll may be demanded on any debenture loan by twenty and ten ratepayers respectively.

Every demand for a poll should be delivered to the Secretary of the District or in his absence to the chairman of the board within fifteen days from the date of posting these notices. A certified copy of the demand should be forthwith for-forwarded to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of Alberta at Edmonton.

Mackenzie King Leader

The big Liberal Convention held in Ottawa last week elected Mackenzie King leader of the old-time liberal party in Canada. The men put up were Mackenzie King, Hon.
 W. F. Fielding, Hon. George P.
 Graham, and D. D. Mackenzie.

The first vote stood as follows:
 King 344, Fielding 297, Graham 153, McKenzie 153. Graham and McKenzie retired and the next vote showed King with 476 vote to Fielding's 438, giving King a majority of 38. Hon. Mr. Fielding asked to have Mr. King's election made unanimous and the convention complied with the request.

The new leader of the liberal party is a protege of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and has a solid Quebec behind him. He is a cultured, virile young man, and has had a great experience in industrial and sociological lines since he was defeated in the elections of 1911, notably with the Rockefeller institution.

The press of the Dominion of all shades of opinion are inclined to give Mr. King credit for his adaptability for his new job, especially if he does not subordinate his principles for political ambitions.

Alberta's Infant Mortality

The brief statement of the vital statistics of Alberta for 1918 recently given to the press by the Department of Public Health, revealed a very disquieting condition of things with regard to infant mortality in that year. The increase in the number of infant deaths from 1186 in 1917 to 1605 in 1918 puts before the province a serious problem.
 Even when the 208 infant deaths attributed to the flu are deducted the remaining 1397 still represent a serious increase, but the most unwelcome discovery of all was that the infant mortality rate for the province, which for several years has been making a steady decline, had suddenly leaped from 87.3 infant deaths per thousand births to 107.1. It will not be possible to make an analysis of the statistics to discover the causes of these deaths until the detailed facts are available, which it is expected will be soon, but sufficient has been disclosed to call for a greater measure of attention to this problem, not only on the part of the government and professional and volunteer child welfare agencies that are struggling with the problem, but on the part of the fathers and mothers of the province to whom has been entrusted the custody and care of the children. Only by earnest co-operation of all who have to do with children can this backward step be redeemed and Alberta's record brought down to the lowest in the Dominion. The rate in New Zealand, where this movement has made greatest progress, is 50 infant deaths annually per thousand births, showing what can be done. Alberta must not be satisfied with anything less than the possible record in this matter.

She might have ended the sentence in a way that would have come much closer to him, and been much truer, but conventionality had been bred into her for generations and she did not find it possible yet freely to speak the truth. Indeed, as she thought of her position here it seemed to her she had become shamelessly unconventional. She thought of her mother, careful, correct,—"Always be correct, my dear,"—and wondered what she would say could she see her only child on these wild, unchaperoned rides and in these strange confidences where she was a girl and Dave was a boy and all the artificialities with which society aims to protect itself had been stripped away. There was a dash of adventure which added to the relish of the situation.

"It's such a wonderful life," she continued. "One gets so strong and happy in it."

"You'd soon get sick of it," he said. "We don't see nothin'. We don't learn nothin'. Reenie, I'm eighteen, an' I bet you could read an' write better'n me when you was six."

"Did you never go to school?" she asked, in genuine surprise. She knew his speech was ungrammatical, but thought that due to careless training rather than to no training at all.

"Where'd I go to school?" he demanded bitterly. "There ain't a school within forty miles. Guess I wouldn't have went if I could," he added as an afterthought, wishing to be quite honest in the matter. "School didn't seem to cut no figure—until jus' lately."

"But you have learned—some?"

"Some. When I was a little kid my father used to work with me at times. He learned me to read a little, an' to write my name, an' a little more. But things didn't go right between him an' mother, an' he got to drinkin' more an' more, an' just makin' hell of it. We used to have a mighty fine herd of steers here, but it's all shot to pieces. We don't put up hardly no hay, an' in a bad winter they die like rabbits. When we sell a bunch the old man'll stay in town for a month or more, blowin' the coin and leavin' the debts go. But I've been fixin' him this year or two. I sneak a couple of steers away now an' then, an' with the money I keep our grocery bills paid up, an' have a little to rattle in my jeans. My credit's good at any store in town," and Irene thrilled to the note of pride in his voice as he said this. The boy had real quality in him. "But I'm sick of it all," he continued. "Sick of it, an' I wanna get out."

"You think you are not educated," she answered, trying to meet his outburst as tactfully as possible. "Perhaps you are not, the way we think of it in the city. But I guess there's a good many things you can't learn out of books, and I guess you could show the city boys a good many things they don't know, and never will know."

For the first time he looked her straight in the face. His dark eyes met her grey ones, and demanded mean that?"

"Irene," he said, "do you

"Sure I do," she answered. "College courses, and all that kind of thing; they're good stuff all right, but they make some awful nice boys—real live boys, you know—into some awful dead ones. Either they get the high-brow and become bores, or the swelled head and become cads. Not all, you know, but lots of them. And then when they get out they have to start learning the real things of life—things that you have been learning here for ever so long. My father says about the best education is to learn to live within your income, pay your debts, and give the other fellow a chance to do the same. They don't all learn that in college. So when they get out they have to go and work for somebody who has learned it, like you have. Then there's the things you do, just like you were born to it, that they couldn't do to save their lives. Why, I've seen you smash six bottles at a stretch, you going full gallop, and whooping and shooting so we could hardly tell which was which. And ride—you could make more money riding for city people to look at than most of those learned fellows, with letters after their names like the tail of a kite, will ever see. But I wouldn't like you to make it that way. There's more useful things to do."

He was comforted by this speech, but he referred to his accomplishments modestly. "Ridin' an' shootin' ain't nothin'," he said.

"I'm not so sure," she answered. "Father says the day is coming when our country will want men who can shoot and ride more than it will want lawyers or professors."

"Well, when it does, it can call on me," he said, and there was the pride in his voice which comes to a boy who feels that in some way he can take a man's place in the world. "There's two things I sure can do."

Years later she was to think of her remark and his answer, consecrated then in clean red blood.

They talked of many things that afternoon, and when at last the lengthening shadows warned them it was time to be on the way they rode long distances in silence. Both felt a sense which neither ventured to express, that they had travelled very close in the world of their hopes and sorrows and desires. Perhaps, as they rode along the foothill trail, they were still journeying together down the long, strange trails of the future: dim, visionary, exquisite trails; rough, hard, cruel trails hidden in the merciful mirage of their young hopefulness.

The shadows had deepened into darkness, and the infinite silence of the hills hung about them as they dropped from their saddles at the Elden door. A light shone from within, and Dr. Hardy, who was now able to move about with the aid of a home-made crutch, could be seen setting the table, while Mr. Elden stirred a composition on the stove. They chatted as they worked, and there was something of the joy of little children in their companionship. The young folks watched for a moment through the window, and in Dave's heart some long-forgotten emotion moved momentarily at the sight of the good fellowship prevailing in the old house. Irene, too, was thinking; glimpses of her own butlered home, and then this background of primal simplicity, where the old cow-man cooked the meals and the famous specialist set the plates on the bare board table, and then back of it all her mother, sedate and correct, and very much shocked over this mingling of the classes. But the girl's reverie was cut short by a sudden affectionate licking of her fingers, and glancing downward she found Brownie, adopted early in her visit at the Eldens, expressing its fond-

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA WAS GIVEN UP

EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURED HER

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of year when the young ones are liable to all kinds of bowel complaints.

If your children have any looseness of the bowels do not experiment with new and untried remedies. Get one having stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 74 years. Don't accept a substitute and perhaps endanger your child's life.

Mrs. Willis Comland, Sundridge, Ont., writes: "About four years ago my little girl, then a baby two months old, took diarrhoea. I took her to the doctor, but to no avail. After he had given her up, I read of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and immediately got a bottle. Within two days she was improving fast. I cannot ever praise it enough. I hope some poor sufferers will see this letter and lead them to a friend indeed." Price 35 cents. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ness in the only fashion at its command.

The calf had been an incident in her ranch experience. It was a late comer, quite unable to keep pace with the earlier fruits of the herd, and had the additional misfortune to be born of an ambitious mother, who had no thought of allowing her domestic duties to impair her social relationships with the matrons and males of her immediate set. She had no place for old-fashioned notions; she was determined to keep up with the herd and the calf might fare as best it could. So they rambled from day to day; she swaggering along with the set, but turning now and then to send an impatient moo toward the small brown body stuck on four long, ungainly legs—legs which had an unfortunate habit of folding up, after the fashion of a jack-knife, upon unforeseen occasions, and precipitating the owner in a huddled mass on the ground. At rare times, when heaven must have stooped close about the herd, the mother instinct would assert itself, and the cow would return to her offspring, licking it lavishly and encouraging it with moosings of deep affection, but such periods of bliss were of short duration. The lure of "the life" was too great for her; she felt herself born for more important roles than mere motherhood, and she would presently rush away to her favorite circle, leaving her begotten to such fates as might befall.

It was on such an occasion, when left far behind, that one of the ungainly legs found its way into a badger hole. The collapse was harder and more complete than usual, and the little sufferer would have died there had he not been found by Dave and Irene in the course of their rides.

Dave, after a moment's examination, drew his revolver, but Irene pleaded for the life of the unfortunate.

"Oh, don't kill it, Dave," she cried. "You couldn't kill it! Let's get the wagon and take it home. It'll get all right, won't it?"

"Never be worth a —," said Dave, checking his vocabulary in the nick of time. "Once they begin to give trouble you might as well knock 'em on the head."

"But it's cruel," she protested. "Just to kill it because it's hurt."

"I don't know about the cruel," he answered. "You see, they're all raised, every one of 'em, to be killed, anyway. Jus' like people, I guess. Sooner or later. But if your heart's set on this little crittur, we'll save it 's long as we can."

So the calf was taken home and became Irene's special care. The mother was captured and tied up in the corral, and the calf, although lame, began to thrive and was strong. It would gallop in its ungainly way about the yard, in its exuberance of youthful innocence, while the mother pined for the latest scandal from the great fields over the hills.

"Brownie, we'll call it," said Irene, "on account of its color."

"All right," said Dave, "on account of your sweater. That'll sort of show the connection."

So this night she rubbed its nose, and scratched its forehead, and then reproved its affection, which had a habit of running to extremes. And the mother cow moored from the corral, and Brownie forgot his benefactress and ambled away at the call of the blood.

Where Kaiser Prayed.

London.—The Berlin newspapers say that the former German emperor has written to the archbishop of Posen asking him to preserve the Protestant chapel at Posen castle for Protestant services and not to convert it to Catholic uses. The former monarch said that it would be unbearable to him to have Roman Catholic services celebrated in the chapel into which he had put his whole soul and in which he prayed for victory for Germany.

Industrial Fiber On Floor Of Sea

Whole Deposit Contains 4,500,000 Tons Dry Weight.

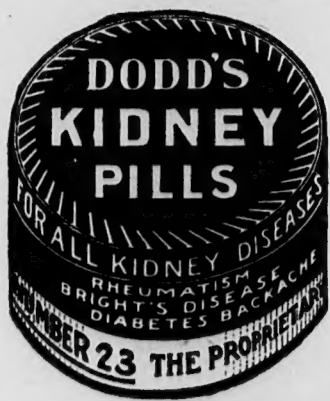

Adelaide, South Australia. On the seashore of South Australia lies unused, and until lately almost unknown, a very large quantity of valuable fiber. It is calculated that the whole deposit contains 4,500,000 tons dry weight. All this comes from the growth in the shallow sea waters of that region of Posidonia Australis.

This is not what is usually known as a seaweed, but is entirely of the nature of a flowering land plant, except for its habits of growing submerged in sea water. Its value comes from the fact that when its long, straw-shaped leaves wither, they remain round the stem as tufts or string-like threads. After a time a dense, matted bed of fiber forms on the sea bottom, and the whole colony gets higher and higher in the water as this bed gets thicker.

In some places the matted beds are seven feet thick and several square miles in extent so that a fine potential industry is foreseen by the South Australian Government. Three large companies are already working at it, and markets are opening for its sale as insulating material for steam pipes and refrigerating plants.

Tourists See Ruins From Dirigible

Italian Navy Has Established Commercial Service for Visiting Rome.

Rome.—Tourists may hereafter visit Roman ruins, the Coliseum, Forum, Pantheon, Caracalla baths and the basilica of Constantine, St. Peter's and other Roman gems, not in antiquated horse drawn carriages, but in airships. The Italian navy has established a commercial dirigible service for visiting Rome and its environs from the air. The venture has met with complete success, for daily the aircraft are filled to capacity.

The correspondent saw Rome from the Italian navy's dirigible M-1. Historic Roman landmarks viewed from the air gave the eye an entirely different aspect of their beauty and form. The riches of Rome in hidden gardens could only be appreciated from above, it was agreed.

Looking at the Coliseum from the ground, it appears to be a circular mass of ruined grandeur. From the air, the elliptical proportions of the second greatest accumulation of masonry in history are pronounced.

The proceeds from the dirigible service are given to the Italian funds for those disabled in the war. Tea is served in mid-air, and letters accepted for postage.

Government Plan For Marketing Crop

Ottawa. — The government has finally determined its policy in regard to this year's wheat crop. The main features of the plan are:

1. A board to buy and market the crop of 1919.

2. A cash payment on account to be made to the farmer at the time he sells his wheat.

3. The wheat crop of Canada to be sold by the board at the prevailing world prices, and the surplus proceeds, after expenses are deducted, to be distributed to the original sellers of the wheat in proportion to grade and quantity.

4. No speculation on exchanges of profiteering by handlers of the wheat crop of 1919 to the disadvantage of either producer or consumer.

5. A direct and immediate cash sale by the farmer and a speedy movement of the crop along the usual channels of transport.

The personnel of the board will be made known very shortly, as also will the initial cash payment to be made on account to the farmer at the time of the sale of his wheat.

The official statement reads:

The peculiar conditions of the wheat market in Europe and the U.S. where government agencies are almost exclusively employed and where government credits have to be provided for the purchase of wheat, rendered it necessary to provide a similar agency in Canada, or to run the risk of being faced with an absence of adequate cash markets for Canadian wheat and a speedy and uniform movement of the same.

The government, after very careful enquiry and consideration, has therefore decided to appoint a board of experienced men invested with adequate powers to conduct the purchase and sale of the Canadian wheat crop of 1919, both for export and domestic purposes.

An additional cash payment by way of advance will be made by the board to the farmers for each bushel sold, based on the price of No. 1 northern at Fort William. At the conclusion of the season's sales, after the deduction of necessary expenses, the total excess realized over and above the first payment made to the farmers will be divided among the original sellers in proportion to the grades and quantities sold. The farmer will thus receive the best world price for his wheat in a cash payment when the wheat crop has been disposed of.

A complete system of record, under the provisions of the Canada Grain act and the regulations made thereunder will be kept which will enable the board to determine with accuracy and pay with certainty the exact proportion of the surplus due to each original seller. The board will sell wheat to the millers and sell the flour milled therefrom for export while for the domestic consumption the sales will be made as usual and the price will be restricted to a fixed maximum of reasonable profit, allowing within that maximum competition among the millers themselves.

The grain exchanges will not give facilities for the buying and selling of futures in wheat during the crop season of 1919. The board will utilize, so far as available and necessary the existing facilities for the purchase, transport and handling of wheat with a view to distributing as little as possible the existing and ultimate methods of trade.

The government has been actuated in its decision by the desire to secure for the Canadian farmer the best possible world price for his product and at the same time, to ensure to the home consumer that his flour shall not cost more than is necessary by actual world prices, such action has also been made necessary in order to secure the early marketing and speedy movement of Canada's surplus wheat, thus making it possible for the farmer to realize at once a substantial cash price for his wheat, and ultimately the fullest possible return of the balance of price realized by the season's sales.

The establishment of this board does not interfere with the work of the board of grain supervisors in respect to that portion of the crop of 1918 delivered by August 15. Their powers and functions are continued in full force so far as that crop is concerned. The new board will have sole authority to deal with the crop of 1919, and with that portion of the crop of 1918, which will be undelivered by August 15.

Norway May Have Spitzbergen

Russia Is Willing That Spitzbergen in Arctic Be Given to Neutrals.

Paris. — The Russian political commission in Paris has advised the peace conference which is considering the disposition of the Spitzbergen Archipelago, which lies in the Arctic Ocean between Franz Josefland and Greenland, that the Russians are willing to have Spitzbergen given to Norway. The belief is expressed by the Russians, however, that it will be necessary to have an International convention for the purpose of protecting the rights of persons of various nations having property there.

American Record for Aerial Height.

Mineola. — Although failing to establish a world's altitude record, Roland Rollif, civilian aviator, flying a Curtiss wasp bi-plane, set a new American mark when, in an official flight from Roosevelt Field, he reached a height of 30,700 feet, according to the figures on his barograph. The world's record is 33,136 feet, made by Adjutant Casale, of the French army in a flight from Villa Coublay last June.

U.S. Submarine and Two Men Lost.

New London, Conn. — The U.S. submarine G-2, which is listed as an obsolete craft and used for experimental work, sank with open hatches in Long Island Sound, off Pleasant beach in Waterford Bay and two of its crew of eight were drowned. The other members of the crew, all of which were from the submarine base here, were rescued.

If you can't do anything else, you can at least keep out of the other fellow's way.

To Save German Navy

Ready to be Salvaged from Deep Sea Says British First Lord of Admiralty.

London. — The battleship, three light cruisers and fifteen destroyers of the former German grand navy, which were scuttled by their crews at Scapa Flow in the Orkney islands on June 22, are ready to be salvaged, it was said in the house of commons by Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty.

Mr. Long said work was proceeding on three other destroyers. He said there was no intention of holding a court of enquiry.

Peace Proposals Not Given Lenine.

London. — Assertions by Liberal papers that Sir Philip Kerr, secretary to Premier Lloyd George, had given a memorandum of peace proposals for the Bolshevik Premier Lenine, to Wm. C. Bullitt, attached to the United States peace delegation were answered in the house of commons by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, with a denial.

Mr. Bonar Law said that Mr. Lloyd George did not know of Bullitt's mission to Russia until Bullitt returned and he denied that the British premier had given Bullitt any such memorandum.

London Cheered Great Dirigible.

London. — The giant British dirigible R-34, which landed at Pullham, Norfolk, on July 13, after making the first trans-Atlantic dirigible flight, left there for East Fortune, Scotland, the point from which it started for the United States.

The R-34 circled over London at a low altitude during the trip, and was seen and cheered by excited crowds

Tornado Swept New Brunswick

Considerable Damage Done to Buildings and Wire Service by Wind.

Frederickton, N.B. — Considerable damage has been done by an electrical storm and wind, which swept over New Brunswick and reached the proportions of a tornado.

In Carleton county, by Florenceville and Centreville, eleven barns were razed by the tornado, while at East Florence, the warehouse of B. E. Smith and Company, Limited, a building about 100 feet in length, was smashed and blown to bits. Fifteen or twenty trees in its path were uprooted and telegraph, telephone and electric light poles were blown over by the tornado, which swept over a territory about a quarter of a mile in width and carried everything before it.

In a number of cases it is declared that loaded hay wagons which had been left standing in barns with the doors open, were lifted bodily and carried along by the tornado. The wagons being smashed and the hay scattered about.

Marshal Foch Welcomed

Gathering in London to Honor Great French General and Present Sword.

London. — Marshal Foch was given a most enthusiastic welcome by the city of London when, accompanied by General Weygand and other distinguished French generals, he drove in the state carriage from the Carlton hotel to the Guildhall to receive the honorary freedom of the city. The streets were gaily decorated. General Foch was received with loud and prolonged cheering and the playing of the Marseillaise when he entered the Guildhall, where a large and distinguished company, including Prince Arthur of Connaught, the French ambassador, Field Marshal Haig, Sir Henry Wilson, Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Right Hon. Messrs. Long and Barnes, and other members of the government were assembled.

The address conferring the freedom of the city described General Foch as a heroic general, a model for future generations of soldiers, and paid tribute to his brilliant part in the war, his stern sense of duty, patriotism and supreme knowledge of the science of war.

Acknowledging the freedom of the city and the sword of honor, Marshal Foch, speaking in French, paid a great tribute to the valor of the British soldiers, the skill of the British generals, especially General Haig, and also the wonderful work of the industrial classes of Britain in providing the allies with abundant guns and munitions.

Dealing with the great German offensive of 1918, he remarked that the British armies, though very exhausted, fought as brilliant a rearguard action as had ever been fought. (Cheers.)

He paid eloquent tribute to the magnificent qualities of the British and Dominion armies in the great counter-attack after August, 1918, and said that their dash and bravery were unsurpassable. They never stopped smashing the German war machine and would have gone through to the Meuse or the Rhine but for the armistice. (Loud cheers.)

French Bond Sale

Amount of Issue in View Totals $50,000,000.

Paris. — Louis Klotz, the minister of finance, has just concluded an arrangement with a group of United States bankers headed by J. P. Morgan and company for the sale in the New York market of French treasury bonds at sixty and ninety days, similar to the British bond now on the market.

The amount of the issue in view at present totals $50,000,000. The United States treasury department, it is said, was consulted regarding the arrangement and gave its consent to it.

Peace Will Be Ratified This Month

Congress Is Peeved

Say Treaty With France Calls On U.S. to Step in Without Their Consent.

Washington. — The peace treaty with Germany was discussed by President Wilson with four more Republican senators, all of them understood to be unwilling to accept the League of Nations in its present form.

Both the senate and the committee had recessed over today and many senators went over for the first time the official text of the treaty with France, submitted for ratification by President Wilson. Although most of them reserved judgment, it became apparent that the treaty's ratification would be bitterly contested.

Two objections about which debate is expected to centre are that the treaty departs from the tradition of no entangling alliances, and that it violates the constitutional provision that congress alone can declare war. Those who base their opposition on the latter ground declare that by promise to go to the aid of France immediately in case of an unprovoked attack on her from Germany, all future congresses would be deprived of their power to decide for war or peace whenever the treaty terms were invoked.

Bulgarians Seek Easy Terms

Hope That the Way May Be Made Pleasant for Them.

Sofia, Bulgaria. — An atmosphere of uneasiness and uncertainty is discernible here with regard to the outcome of the mission in Paris of the Bulgarian peace delegates. Bulgaria's claims to the Dobrudja and her aspirations as to Macedonia are still to the fore in discussion of the peace terms, and despite the hints of possible territorial losses, which have caused concern and brought out some bitter comment, there appears to be a general hope that justice, as it is viewed here, will be done Bulgaria in this respect, and that the questions at issue will be determined independently of her participation in the war on the side opposed to the allies.

Prominent spokesmen among the Bulgarians having given expression of strong desires to see peace brought about through the visit of the mission to Paris, together with the hope, as one of them said, that the terms would be "something that we can swallow." In these expressions both Great Britain and the United States are alluded to as friendly, but the belief in this friendship is varied with less certainty than previously. Utterances indicating dislike of the French are freely heard in the capital, which may be explained as due to the presence of French colonial troops there.

Yorkshire Miners Ignore Leaders

For the Moment the Deadlock Is Complete.

London. — Failure of the attempt made at Leeds in a conference of coal miners and their employers to end the coal strike, which has been in progress for some time, caused surprise and disappointment. The leaders of the miners refused to accept the government's formula to bring an end to the controversy or to be bound by the action of the Miners' federation declaring in favor of a return to work.

Therefore, for the moment, the deadlock is complete. No arrangement has been made for the resumption of the conference as far as is known and the outlook is regarded as serious.

Victory Loan Success.

London. — The recent British victory loan scheme amounted to £767,800,000, it was announced in the house of commons by J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. This exceeds the amount previously announced by £59,800,000.

Paris. — It is expected in French circles that the discussion of the German peace treaty will open August 10 in the chamber of deputies and will continue for three or four days. There will then be a three or four-day discussion in the senate.

As Japan is supposed to have a copy of the treaty by this time, and the emperor's ratification is expected at an early date, French officials are of the opinion that the treaty will become effective when the French ratify it, about August 20. England has already ratified the treaty, and the signatures of only three great powers are necessary to make it effective.

Race Riots In Chicago

State Troops Established a Barred Zone About Three Miles Square.

Chicago. — Chicago streets are being patrolled by soldiers called out by Governor Lowden at the request of Mayor Thompson for the protection of life and property threatened by the race war, which for some days has terrorized the city.

The State troops established a barred zone about three miles square, embracing most of the colored residential district on the southside. In this zone they searched every person whom they met for weapons. No one could pass in or out without military permission. The district extended roughly from 122nd Street to 55th Street, north and south, and from Michigan boulevard to Wenworth avenue, east and west. This happened when riots in the colored district itself had somewhat subsided, when there was an alarm spread of disturbances outside. New York Central railroad officials reported all their trains being fired on.

Adjutant General Dickson, after an early evening trip through the threatened district, declared the situation was ominous, and his view was shared by the mayor's secretary, who accompanied him.

Hundreds of negroes appealed for protection. Incendiary attacks upon negro homes increased through the day and night. Negro leaders declared that many members of their race faced starvation because drivers of supply wagons feared to enter some parts of the black belt.

New Dominion Loan

Sir Thomas White Says Last Victory Loan Meant Sale of Crops.

Ottawa. — Sir Thomas White states that since September last credits to Great Britain aggregating $167,000,000 had been furnished by the government for the purchase of last year's wheat crop. In addition about $25,000,000 had been supplied for the purchase of other foodstuffs and over $12,000,000 for timber.

It was last year's Victory loan which enabled Canada to grant the extension credits necessary for the purchase of these products, upon whose sale the prosperity of the entire Dominion, agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial, so largely depends. The success of the Dominion loan this fall is regarded as of vital importance to Canada to enable her to meet demobilization expenses and also to provide in part the money for the sale of our wheat and other products.

Germans Buying Copper.

New York. — Moderate quantities of refined copper have been bought for German manufacturing interests, one of the leading selling agencies here announced. Shipments have already been made and are expected to assume larger proportions. The financial arrangement connected with the purchase of the metal are not disclosed.

Women Get Vote.

Helena, Mont. — The Montana state senate has ratified the federal suffrage amendment to the constitution by a vote of 38 to 1. The house unanimously ratified the amendment.

The Western Farmer

Convenient Market for His Crop and a Source of Supply for the "Mixed" Farmer

The rapid expansion of the milling industry in the West during the past two years has a direct bearing on the reciprocity question. One of the strongest arguments for reciprocity was the fact that there were few mills in the Canadian west that could afford a farmer a ready and convenient market for his crop. In other words there was no home market and the advocates of the home market idea found little to support their arguments in the West two years ago. To-day conditions have changed as is shown in the following article from the financial page of a recent issue of The Globe, a paper that led in the fight for reciprocity:

"It looks as if a city in the Canadian west is destined to become the greatest flour milling centre in the British Empire. This is Medicine Hat, Alberta. Milling enterprises are moving westward. Not only are the Ogilvie and Maple Leaf Milling Companies building in Medicine Hat, but new concerns are being established on a large scale in Moose Jaw and Calgary. These facts are significant. They indicate foresight, preparation for activities in the far west that are to come, and those who are using foresight have their eyes on the Panama Canal and the Orient and the western exits to the sea."

"It is economy that prompts the erection of these mills. It is figured that ten cents per barrel will be saved in the manufacture of flour in Medicine Hat. With large storing and milling capacity, and cheap power, the Ogilvie mill will produce 2,000 barrels per day, with provision to treble this amount in due course. This will be the company's largest mill to date. Another mill to be erected in Medicine Hat by the Maple Leaf Milling Company, will begin with a daily output of 3,000 barrels to be increased to about 7,000 barrels. A third mill is to be erected by the Manitoba Milling Company, arrangements having already been made. Add the present Medicine Hat Milling Company and that city will in the near future be producing 25,000 to 30,000 barrels per day at least."

"There is probably but one milling centre in the world with greater daily capacity, and that is Minneapolis, where something like 75,000 barrels are ground daily."

What is true of Medicine Hat is also true of Saskatoon, Regina, Lethbridge, Calgary, Brandon, Portage la Prairie, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw and other cities in the West. The development of the milling industry is also important in connection with efforts to encourage the farmer to go into mixed farming. Large flour mills have ample supplies of offal which is invaluable as feed in the stock raising industry. This will be readily available at low cost at convenient centres all through the West. It looks as though the reciprocity question would be answered by the expansion of the milling industry and the building up of diversified industries in the West, associated with the development of mixed farming.

BUILDING UP THE WEST

Infant Industries in the Prairie Provinces Must be Protected

The Calgary Standard says: "Without a reasonable protective tariff the plains of Alberta and Saskatchewan cannot build up industrial cities; at the best they will be only flour mills and warehouses based upon the one industry of wheat-growing. With protection, moderate protection—the national policy—the manufacturer can afford to launch out into making the many articles of domestic and industrial use for which there is a market at his door. Even Saskatchewan and Alberta are commencing to realize the value of protection. They are beginning to see that these provinces cannot become peopled with artisans and mechanics as well as farmers and ranchers except the infant industry is given a fighting chance for its life."

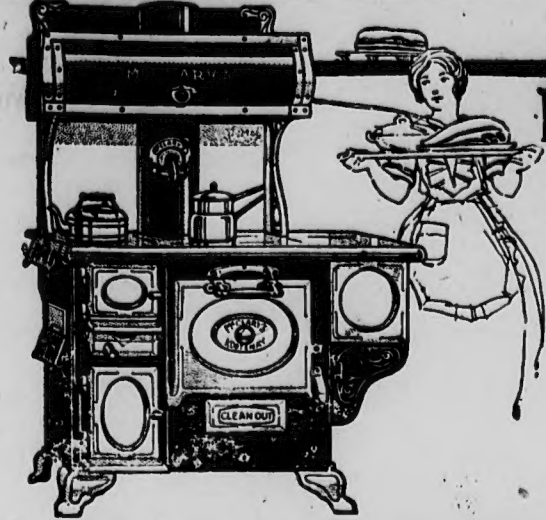

This view of economics is more general in the West than many people suppose. It is the only one. The West is already showing the world how its cities can manufacture. Dr. Archibald Blue gives the following statistics the last column showing the increase per cent. in the value of manufactured goods.

The Big Bear Hunt.

On W. J. Scheidt's land, 2 miles east, on Tuesday, Aug. 5th, a black bear, weighing 99 lbs., was killed by a party of Didsbury men. A. J. Perron and W. J. Scheidt chased it into the grove and held it there for two hours while waiting for help. The help lost lots of time scouring the neighbourhood for machine guns, howitzers and bombs. None of these weapons being procurable they set off to the scene of battle with willow canes and shotguns. Having laid the bear hors de combat the party returned to the strains of "see the conquering hero comes."

It is not yet decided who was the hero of the fight as up to date there are only twenty-three claimants to the honors. Some people think the bear was driven out of its regular haunts by the recent forest fires. However, its body was brought into town and after the post mortem where the coroner declared it had died from sheer fright its meat was distributed among the heroes of the battle. The hide is being preserved and in time may be shown at the museum or cut up for shoe polishers.

Don't lug old clippings into a newspaper office and tell the editor that you have brought him something to fill up with. Take him a cabbage, he can fill up with that.

McClary's Kootenay

DO YOU realize how much time you can waste over a cranky range? Every busy woman should have a Kootenay to work with—grates easy to work, ashes easy to take out, oven quick to respond, doors fitting right, a well-made reliable range. Ask to see the Kootenay.

Does a Farmer Need a Truck?

THE farmer with a Ford Truck practically lives next door to the market. He has a choice of markets. He becomes more independent.

He can market his goods when and where he pleases. He sells his crop to the very best advantage.

And his hauling costs him less—in labor and money.

It is not only cheaper to haul with a Ford Truck than with a team and wagon, it is quicker, it is easier work.

Consider the time and labor the farmer can save with a Ford Truck. With a team the trip to town takes the better part of a day.

A Ford Truck makes the same trip in two or three hours.

When labor is so scarce, what farmer can afford to waste day after day of his valuable time?

Ford Trucks Complete with Body and Enclosed Cab

Ford One-Ton Trucks are now supplied, if desired, with standard truck bodies in two types, the Stake Body and the Express Body. In both standard bodies the cabs may be supplied with or without doors as desired.

See these complete Ford Trucks. Consider the matter from every angle; the cost of feeding horses against the cost of running a Ford Truck; the time you lose on the road; the money you lose by being so far from the best markets. There is only one conclusion you can come to. You will have a Ford Truck.

While You Are Waiting For Harvest

Oh Yes, we know you have plenty to do but we want to suggest a few things that in your rush from now until snow flies, might be overlooked and things we are sure you want to have done — for instance,

That Old Roof Should Be Fixed

It is getting so weak that the next heavy wind is going to leave everything under it unprotected. Get shingles or roofing now and make it safe.

Those Machines Need a Roof Over Them

They are in splendid working order now and a good weather-proof shed will keep them that way until you want them next year. Means a big saving in new machines and repairs for old ones.

Your Chickens Need a New Home

They will work better for you next year if they have it. These are small but exceedingly necessary improvements and you probably know of others.

Look things over today or tomorrow and then come in for the material and get these jobs out of the way before the Fall rush begins.

Don't forget Syd Wright's stock sale, Friday, Aug. 15.

Mr. Harold Reiber has left to take up a position at the Forester School, teaching grades 7 and 8.

Mr. Ray Piles was married to Miss Gotchee, in Calgary, on July 31st.

Miss L. Weber has gone to Champion for a two week's vacation.

Mrs. Frank Reek is taking the little Lamont boy to Winnipeg on Saturday.

Miss Rupp has returned to town after having what, she says, was a delightful holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zimmerman left for a ten-day holiday trip to Banff and Drumheller on Tuesday.

The Rev. and Mrs. D. Macgregor left Didsbury to-day for Gull Lake. They will be away from home for about two weeks.

Walter Gertz who went overseas with the 187th has returned. He heard it said "It is not well for man to live alone" so he brought back a bride.

Millinery Opening. Mrs. Peterson has returned from her holidays and will be prepared by Aug. 18 with the new Fall Hats. Call and look them over. 1p

A party of tourists were viewing the crater of vesuvius when an American said "It looks like h—." An Englishman standing by said "My, how those Americans do travel."

If the party who died last week and sent us an obituary notice will kindly let us have his name and present address, we will be pleased to allow the necessary space in our columns.

A Dance will be given in the Worthington Barn, on the Hudson Ranch, on Friday, August 15th. Cremona music. Free lunch. Admission $1.00 a couple. Everybody welcome. 1p

Our very sincere congratulations to Mr. Roger Barrett, of Didsbury, who was married to Miss Emma Parrish, of Lethbridge, on the 9th inst., by the Rev. Canon James, at the Church of St. Stephen, Calgary.

One of our readers wants to know what we would do to settle the unemployment question. We might petition that the Germans pay the war indemnity in nickles and dimes, this would keep a few going on counting.

Shannon Bros. have the boiler for heating the plant and expect to commence operations by the first of the month. A big gang is at work at present on the job. They have graded the street running west between the bank and the drug store.

Fred Stevens, who has managed the Stevens' service shop for two years in the absence of his brother who is on military duty overseas, is confined to his bed with heart trouble following measles. His sister, who also had the measles, is now convalescent.

Rugby Women's Institute have arranged for a lawn social at Mr. Chas. Young's, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 20th, 1919. A good program and abundant refreshment is promised. Gates open at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome. Ladies bring cakes. 1c

In Calgary, on Saturday, we were riding 'on the street car. Being rather warm we laid our hats on the seat. Just then a lady entered and sat on them. I said: "Excuse me, lady, but do you know what you are sitting on?" She replied, with a scowl, "I ought to, young man, I have been sitting on it for over thirty years."

The report that the Steven's home had two cases of scarlet fever is entirely wrong, nothing worse than measles. Those that contemplate attending the Institute picnic on Aug. 14th need not be deterred by fear of infection as the place will be thoroughly fumigated and outdoor dressing rooms arranged. Coffee made in the open and all done to show you a good time.

The kickers on the farm are not so hard to get along with as the kickers in town. On the farm there is the kicking cow and our long-eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the old mossback who wants all the municipal improvements without paying for them. The cow may be sold for beef, the mule traded for a shotgun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of the town kicker.

A young lady went into the dry goods store the other day and blushing asked the clerk if he "had any of those elastic bands, capable of being elongated and adjusted at pleasure, and used by the feminine portion of mankind for putting around the lower extremities of their locomotive members to keep in the proper position and the required altitude habiliments of their tibias." The clerk is now on a sheep ranch.

Didsbury Local of the G.W.V.A. The following men have sent in their names: S. R. Wood, J. G. Garner, Clarence Earl, A. E. Peck, R. Dolman, W. A. Lethbridge, H. L. McWilliams, R. W. Blain, P. A. An African king had taken a fancy to a missionary, and wishing to please him and make him stand between him and the white governments who were inclined to punish him for certain crimes, brought before him the five hundred most beautiful maidens in his kingdom. "They are the loveliest flowers of my land," said the monarch, "pick one from among them for your wife." The missionary, who already had a wife at home, was greatly embarrassed and not wishing to hurt the feelings of his host, much less offend him, replied diplomatically. "You honor me, but I dare not choose lest the others grow jealous." "That's easily fixed," replied the monarch, "take them all."
